IPTV scam checklist

Fifteen checks to run before paying for a TV subscription, while paying, when installing an app and if something goes wrong. Print it or keep the PDF.

Before you pay

- ☐ I can test the service on my own screen before paying, for example with a free trial.
- ☐ I found the seller's contact details on their own website and typed the address myself.
- ☐ I have read written terms: what I get, for how long, and what happens if it stops.
- ☐ The offer is not a "lifetime" deal, or a very low price with no trial and no terms.
- ☐ I am not buying a login resold or shared by another customer.

When paying

- ☐ The payment request came through the seller's official channel, after I placed an order.
- ☐ Nobody asked for my email password, banking login or one-time security codes.
- ☐ I am keeping the order, the payment reference and the messages until my access works.

When installing an app

- ☐ The player app comes from an official store or from its publisher's own website.
- ☐ I did not install a modified or "premium unlocked" app file sent to me by link.

If something goes wrong

- ☐ I contact my payment provider quickly to ask about a dispute; time limits often apply.
- ☐ I stop further payments and never pay more to "unlock" a refund.
- ☐ I change any password I shared and turn on two-step verification.
- ☐ I uninstall apps that came from unofficial links.
- ☐ I report it to my national consumer or fraud reporting service.

Full guide: streamoratv.org/iptv-scams/ · Source: Streamora (streamoratv.org)